

Stop the spread of
African swine fever
DO NOT PACK PORK

African swine fever (ASF) is a contagious disease of domestic and wild pigs. It is not a danger to human health but is devastating to pigs and farmers.

ASF has continued to spread through European, African, Central American and Asian countries including China, Vietnam, the Philippines, Timor Leste and Papua New Guinea.

Pork meat or pork meat products from overseas could introduce serious animal diseases to Australia that could devastate our valuable livestock industries.

Enjoy the delicacies while you travel overseas, but DON'T BRING THEM TO AUSTRALIA.

Examples of pork meat products include pork, ham, salami, sausage and small goods.

For more information visit agriculture.vic.gov.au/africanswinefever or call 136 186.

Produced with the assistance of the South Australian Government.

Creative commons

We encourage the sharing and re-use of information provided. The State of Victoria owns the copyright in all material produced by the Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Action (DEECA).

All material provided in this document is provided under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 international licence, except:

- any images, photographs or branding, including the Victorian Coat of Arms, the Victorian Government, Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Action and Agriculture Victoria logos; and

- content supplied by third parties. Read the full licence here: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>

Accessibility

If you would like to receive this publication in an alternative format, please telephone the DEECA Customer Service Centre on 136 186, email customer.service@ecodev.vic.gov.au or via the National Relay Service on 133 677 www.relayservice.com.au. For Translating and Interpreting Service, phone 131 450 and ask them to phone the Exotic Plant Pest Hotline on 1800 084 881. This document is also available on the internet at www.agriculture.vic.gov.au

Disclaimer

This publication may be of assistance to you but the State of Victoria and its employees do not guarantee that the publication is without flaw of any kind or is wholly appropriate for your particular purposes and therefore disclaims all liability for any error, loss or other consequence which may arise from you relying on any information in this publication.