Water hyacinth

Eichhornia crassipes

This plant, known as water hyacinth, is a noxious weed in Australia. In Victoria it is a State prohibited weed.

In Victoria it is against the law to buy or sell water hyacinth. Selling or sharing these plants in the community is against the law. It is also against the law to place this plant into a local waterway.

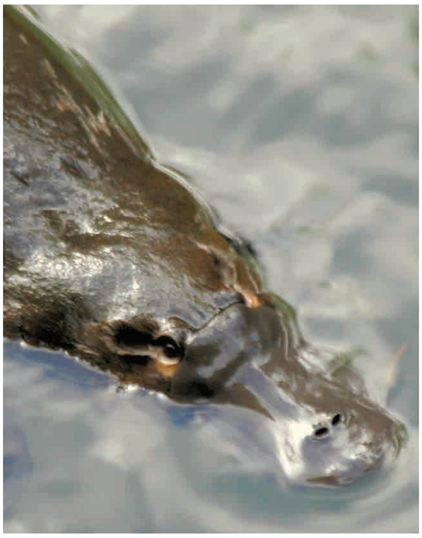
If you let us know that you have water hyacinth plants there will not be a penalty and we will remove and safely dispose of the plants.

At Agriculture Victoria we are working hard to protect our environment from this weed and we need your help.

This plant is harmful to native Australian animals, like the platypus, because it blocks waterways and reduces their food.

It stops people from enjoying activities such as fishing, kayaking and water skiing. In rivers, lakes and streams, it can increase costs to farmers and makes our food more expensive.

You are not allowed to buy or sell water hyacinth.



Water hyacinth reduces the food available for platypus.

You can help us stop this weed entering the environment.

Please call us on 136 186 or email us at weed.spotters@ecodev.vic.gov.au if you have water hyacinth. We will remove it from your garden and dispose of it for free.

Please tell us if you see water hyacinth in your local river, lake or stream so we can safely remove it and help protect the Australian environment.
