What is the Agricultural and Pastoral Society Grants Program?

Agricultural and Pastoral Societies contribute significantly to Victoria's vibrant culture by promoting the agricultural sector to rural and city communities.

The Victorian Government provides funding to Agricultural and Pastoral Societies to support infrastructure development to celebrate Victoria's agricultural communities, industries and produce.

The Agricultural and Pastoral Society Grants (Program) are administered by Agriculture Victoria, which is part of the Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Action (DEECA) (the Department).

The Program aims to support Agricultural and Pastoral Societies (Societies) by providing funding to stimulate community involvement across Victoria in activities that promote agriculture. The Program aims to achieve the following outcomes:

- greater community awareness and involvement in agricultural activities
- increased opportunity for local agricultural businesses to promote and engage with the community
- improved infrastructure development and upgraded amenities for community use during annual agricultural shows and events
- development or enhancement of facilities that encourage multi-purpose community use throughout the calendar year and stimulate local business for producers and suppliers.

Program dates and the application process

Please ensure you read these Program guidelines thoroughly. Queries may be directed to the program team at agricultural.grants@agriculture.vic.gov.au. Opening and closing dates will be listed on the Agriculture Victoria website.

Applications for funding will be accepted for up to $10,000 (GST exclusive). Applicants must submit one application per Agricultural and Pastoral Society. The application may include multiple projects. Grant funds may be used to fund up to 75% of eligible total project costs.

Recipients will be required to contribute 25% of the total project cost. All or part of this co-contribution may be provided in-kind.

In-kind contributions may include donated labour and/or equipment usage, valued at no more than $30 per hour. In their application, applicants should estimate the labour costs i.e. the hours and number of people involved and/or equipment that may be required.

For example:

Labour: 2 people x 10 hours @ $30 per hour = $600

Front end loader: 6 hours @ $30 per hour = $180

If in-kind support is included in the grant application, a summary list of volunteers and time/equipment is required.

Applicants will be responsible for any cost overruns for a project.

Note: It is expected that there will be a high level of demand for funding under this Program. Applicants must not assume they will be successful or enter into commitments based on that assumption before receiving formal notification of their application outcome.

Tax and GST Implications

The Agricultural and Pastoral Society Grants are GST exclusive.

If Applicants are registered for GST, the application amount stated as the total project cost should be the *GST exclusive amount i.e. the Society can claim an input tax credit in respect of the GST that is paid.

If Applicants are not registered for GST, the application amount stated as the total project cost should **include GST as shown in the examples below.

Table 1. Example of GST calculations

	Registered for GST	Not registered for GST
Quote	$8,000.00	$8,000.00
GST	$727.27	$727.27
Total project cost	*$7,272.73	$8,000.00
Grant request (75%)	$5,454.55	$6,000.00
Society contribution (25%)	$1,818.18	$2,000.00

*total project cost stated in the application should be GST exclusive if a Society is registered for GST

**total project cost stated in the application should be GST inclusive if a Society is not registered for GST

Applicants should consult the Australian Taxation Office or seek professional advice on any taxation implications that may arise from this grant funding.
